Maxime Joiris Marketing Student

Profile

As a marketing student I am passionate about business, promoting, market research, and advertising. Once I've completed studies, my ambition is to find a job as a marketer where I can help projects I am inspired about to thrive, from start to finish. As a hard worker who is enthusiastic about analysing and solving problems, and making sure that the client always has the best experience possible, I think I will be a great addition to your team.

Activities

Being closely involved with my indoor football team, I have learnt to work together as a team towards a common goal. In the past I also used to be part of a youth movement, and again teamwork was critical, especially with different types of people. Family is truly important to me, both the one I was born in and the ones I've made along the way, and I will do anything to assist them in finding the best solution in every situation.
